北九州市 KITAKYUSHU
漫画ミュージアム MANGA MUSEUM

Kitakyushu Manga Museum

Enjoy the museum in 3 ways!

Watch!

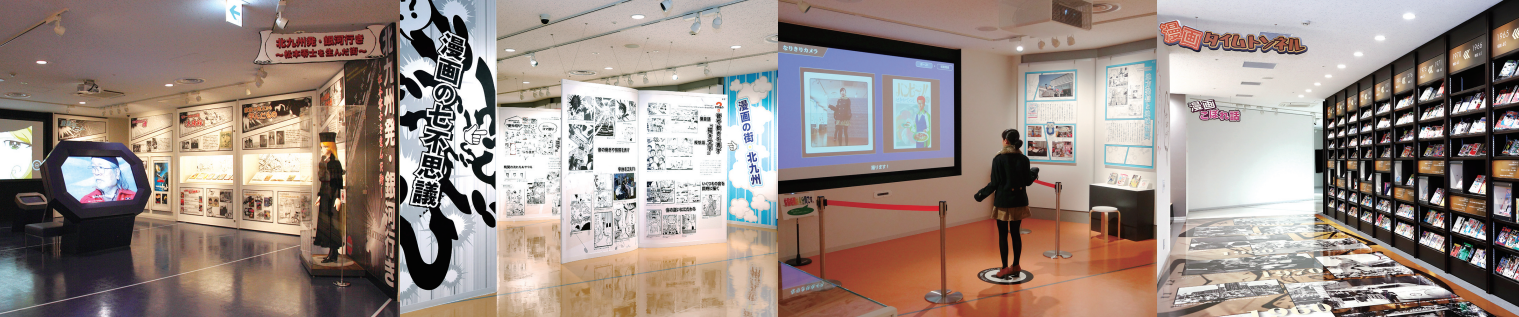

Have fun learning about the structure of manga!

Read 70,000 manga books!

Read!

Learn to draw manga and illustrations in the Manga School and Manga Experience classes!

Draw!

1 Departure from Kitakyushu bound for the Galaxy - City where Leiji Matsumoto was born -

This space focuses on the background and works of manga artist Leiji Matsumoto. Visitors can see a new interview video and animated works.

2 Seven Wonders of Manga

This space shows how manga is made in an easy-to-understand manner, including the processes leading up to the completion of a manga and the rules for dividing frames. The actual work desk used by Hisashi Sekiya, a manga artist from Kitakyushu, is also on display.

3 Kitakyushu: Manga City

Learn about the relationship between Kitakyushu City and manga, and manga artists associated with the area. Visitors can access a database containing manga artists' profiles and commentaries on their work in a game-like manner.

4 Manga Time Tunnel

Learn about post-war Japanese manga and social history from 1945 to 2012 through manga that visitors can pick up and read.

5 Side Stories Related to Manga

Get a close-up look at the wide and deep world of manga mixed with behind-the-scenes struggles and scholarly discussions through trivia. The content is updated from time to time.

6 Gallery of Tomorrow

This mini-exhibition space introduces the work of up-and-coming creators from the local area. The exhibition includes not only manga but also illustrations and figures.

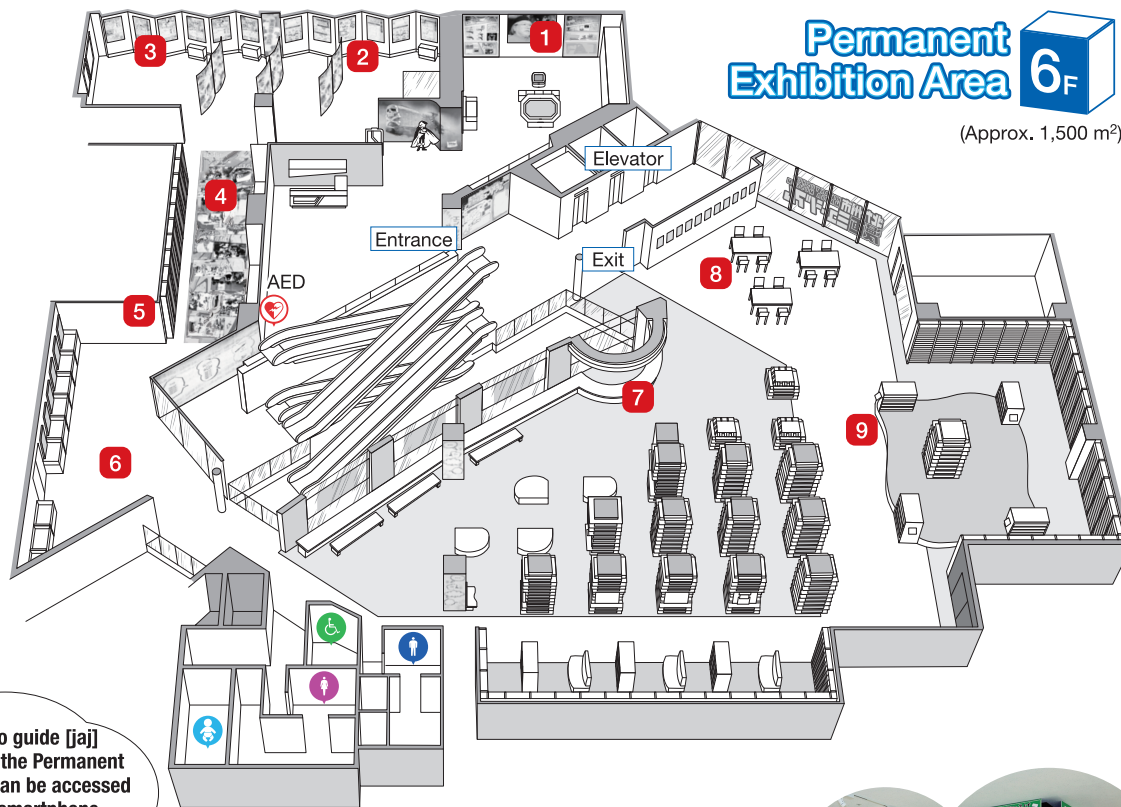

7 Consultation Section

The staff stationed at the section help visitors find manga they're looking for and are happy to answer questions about manga. Ask at the counter if you are in search of something.

8 Event Section

An event section is set up in the reading area, where manga classes and workshops are held regularly. Both children and adults can have fun creating manga.

An audio guide [ja] explaining the Permanent Exhibition can be accessed on your smartphone. See the Information Board at the Permanent Exhibition entrance.

9 Reading Zone

Visitors are welcome to read any of the approximately 70,000 books. This is a space where visitors can relax and read famous classics and currently popular works on the shelf. There is a special feature section where recommended works are introduced.
